

Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder Training

TRAINING CONNECTIONS AUSTRALIA

Who are we?

Training Connections Australia (TCA) has an 'outside the box' philosophy of delivering training. They also have a commitment to corporate social responsibility. These ideologies led the rffada to seek out this organisation as partner in the delivery and further development of the FASD training. This partnership has resulted in qualified, experienced trainers delivering the first publicly available training on Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder in Australia. Traditionally TCA delivers training programs using interactive project-based learning. This methodology has become a point of difference for TCA and has resulted in a high success rate in some of the most remote Indigenous communities in Australia.

DO YOUR CLIENTS DISPLAY THE FOLLOWING BEHAVIOUR?

- Does your client say all the right things but then can't seem to follow through?
- Have they been in trouble with the law for the same thing/s over and over?
- Do they have a history of substance abuse?
- Did they leave school early?
- Has their employment history been patchy from being dismissed or leaving after only a few months?
- Does your client have a mental illness?
- Has your client ever attempted suicide?
- Has your client cycled through other services?
- Does your client do well while you are supporting him or her but when the support is withdrawn, things fall apart quite quickly?

Your client may have FASD!

RUSSELL FAMILY FETAL ALCOHOL DISORDERS ASSOCIATION (RFFADA)

Who are we?

The rffada was established in 2007 after its founder, Elizabeth (Anne) Russell birth mother and published author, identified the need for compassionate, 'no blame no shame' support of birth mothers and their children. She had also found that services which would normally be accessed by people living with FASD did not have the level of understanding sufficient to adequately support this group.

Elizabeth and members of the rffada have given their time freely over the years to ensure these needs are being met.

Vision

Our vision is to have FASD-specific services available for all those who require them and to make all Australians aware of the consequences of drinking alcohol during pregnancy.

Mission

The mission of the rffada is to provide leadership in all aspects of Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder and in doing so, build the capacity of communities to support those affected to live to their full potential.

Values

Education – Awareness – Support
